

ABSTRACT

A suspension fabric for use in seating is described which includes a double jersey knit prepared from shrink yarn and another yarn. A frame cover prepared from the suspension fabric fits easily over the frame, and 5 the suspension fabric is then heated to cause shrinking of the fabric and a tightening of the cover over the frame. The another yarn is preferably an air jet textured microfiber yarn or a false twist yarn.